

CHEF DE CUISINE, JAMPA

Chef Im

GONGPITAK BOONTANAVEERAPAT

The Fullest Form

CHEF IM — CONCENTRATION AND FOCUS

At Jampa — the Michelin Green Star restaurant within Tri Vananda, Phuket — Chef Im leads a kitchen where nothing is wasted and every ingredient is taken as far as it can go. The Fullest Form is the idea beneath all of it: that people and produce alike hold more depth, character and possibility than first appears, and that a chef's true work is to uncover it.

I. The Power Within

The strength is there before the spotlight finds it. Chef Im's star quality shows in the work — the precision of a dish, the calm of a service, the discipline of a kitchen — never in self-promotion. He rose to lead Jampa from inside its own kitchen: quiet capability, given time and heat, becomes undeniable.

II. Made of More

A vegetable is more than a vegetable; a young cook is more than a station. Chef Im works from the conviction that what is visible at first is never the whole story — so he grows the farm, the team and the plate the same way: patiently, from within, toward a culture of teamwork, creativity and shared purpose.

III. Maximum Expression

Every ingredient arrives holding its greatest possible self, and leaves the kitchen having reached it. Live fire draws out depth no pan can. Zero-waste thinking forces invention no shortcut allows. Restraint lets seasonal produce speak in its own voice. Nothing is padded, disguised or left unfinished.

THE FULLEST FORM (n.) — the process of uncovering what exists within, and transforming it into its most complete and powerful expression.

THE JOURNEY

Chef Im’s foundations were laid in world-class kitchens; Jampa taught him the farm, the fire and the philosophy from the inside. In 2025 he was named Chef de Cuisine — a promotion from within, the identity proven on himself first.

LE NORMANDIE — MANDARIN
ORIENTAL, BANGKOK

Chef de partie. Classical French discipline: balance, precision, harmony — the grammar beneath everything that followed.

JAMPA — SOUS CHEF

Years inside the kitchen he would one day lead. Seasons observed, the closed-loop system mastered, trust earned plate by plate.

JAMPA — CHEF DE CUISINE,
2025

Directing the menus of Jampa and its farm-side sister experience, HiDEAWAY by Jampa — a refined interpretation of farm-to-table dining, quietly expressive.

THE PRACTICE

DISCIPLINE

Formed in classical kitchens at the highest standard: balance, precision and harmony, practised daily until they became instinct. Exactness as a form of respect — for the ingredient, the guest and the craft. The discipline to repeat a thing a thousand times is what makes the thousand-and-first look effortless.

IMAGINATION

The ability to see what is not yet visible: depth in a humble vegetable, a dish inside a trim or root that others would discard, flavour that only fire and patience can reach. Drawing more from less — and refusing to call anything waste before asking what it could become.

RESTRAINT

The hardest skill, and the last one learned: knowing when to stop. One element removed is often the difference between good and unforgettable. The ingredient’s character defines the dish — the chef’s hand should be felt, never seen.

THE SETTING

Jampa has held the Michelin Green Star for sustainable gastronomy since 2022 — retained every year since — within Tri Vananda, a multigenerational well-living community grown across 232 acres of forest, farmland and lakes in Phuket, Thailand.

HOW THE BRAND
SPEAKS

SHOW, NEVER ANNOUNCE

The Power Within means proof over claims. Let the dish, the farm and the team speak; the chef steps forward last.

DEPTH OVER SURFACE

Made of More applies to language too: short, concrete, unhurried words. Precision in copy as in plating.

INGREDIENT AND PROCESS
FIRST, CHEF SECOND

Every story starts with what the ingredient holds — Maximum Expression is the narrative arc of all content.
