

TRI VANANDA

BPCM

CASE STUDIES

Lanserhof

ASSIGNMENT

Position the launch of Lanserhof Sylt not as a hotel opening, but as a genuine entrant into the US cultural conversation around wellness and longevity.

EXECUTION

Rather than one generic "luxury wellness retreat" pitch, BPCM built distinct narrative tracks for different reader identities on the same destination: a recovery-and-resilience story (a first-person account from a breast cancer survivor rebuilding her sense of self); a post-burnout reset story landed in fashion and culture press; and a multi-generational wellbeing story for family and lifestyle outlets. Each used the same physical property to answer a different emotional need.

OUTCOME

By reframing a single destination through multiple emotional and editorial lenses, BPCM secured standout coverage across fashion, design, travel, and lifestyle media — including an unprecedented 7-page global Vogue profile, an Interior Design cover story, and features in WSJ Magazine, Harper's Bazaar, GQ, and ELLE. Beyond launch, BPCM has sustained the narrative by hosting five to six top-tier media annually, generating first-person essays that position Lanserhof as a destination people visit with purpose (from cancer recovery and gut regeneration to transformative sleep programs) rather than another luxury wellness retreat. This approach delivered 36 top-tier placements in 2025 and 23 year-to-date in 2026, while making the U.S. Lanserhof's second-largest global source of website traffic and earning recognition from TIME and Travel + Leisure.

The Ritz-Carlton: Late Checkout

ASSIGNMENT

Reposition a century-old hospitality icon for a culturally engaged, younger luxury audience without diluting its legacy of service.

EXECUTION

BPCM positioned the collaboration as a narrative platform rather than a fashion capsule using story, talent, and earned relationships to translate The Ritz-Carlton into a contemporary lifestyle context. Press-office outreach secured coverage across fashion, culture, and business editors who don't typically cover hospitality brands, anchored by a short film starring Josh Hutcherson that gave those editors a cultural, not promotional, reason to engage.

OUTCOME

By partnering with a brand outside the hospitality category, BPCM repositioned The Ritz-Carlton as a contemporary cultural brand rather than simply a luxury hotel securing standout coverage across fashion, culture, and business media, anchored by a hero film that earned more than 60,000 organic likes and 2,300 shares. Beyond launch, BPCM sustained the momentum across two years, growing creator participation from 68 to 162 posts and social impressions from 729,000 to 7.6 million. This approach delivered 8.68 billion earned impressions and grew AVE from $8.2 million in 2024 to $12.7 million in 2025 — with social EMV more than tripling, from $32,800 to $103,200 — while earning a Gold Cannes Lion and reinforcing the lasting value of narrative-led storytelling over a traditional partnership announcement.

Atlantic Club Comporta

ASSIGNMENT

Launch Atlantic Club Comporta -- a new luxury residential and hospitality concept from renowned interior designer Jacques Grange and garden designer Madison Cox -- in one of Europe's most closely watched emerging destinations, establishing the property as a new point of reference for luxury travel and real estate in the "Hamptons of Portugal", Comporta.

EXECUTION

BPCM helped build the destination story around Comporta, educating U.S. media on its evolution as an emerging destination for understated luxury and positioning Atlantic Club Comporta at the center of that conversation. We introduced the property through a broader hospitality narrative, highlighting its intersection of private residential living, high-design hospitality and a new generation of European members clubs. To turn that positioning into first-hand advocacy, BPCM hosted a highly curated international press trip, immersing priority media in the Atlantic Club experience and generating relationships and editorial opportunities across travel, design, lifestyle and luxury real estate.

OUTCOME

Within three months of launch, BPCM secured nine major media placements, generating more than 434.8 million impressions and $8.7 million in advertising value equivalency. High-impact coverage across The New York Times, T Magazine, Condé Nast Traveller UK, Galerie, and Observer introduced Atlantic Club Comporta to global luxury audiences, while reinforcing the property's positioning at the intersection of travel, design, and residential hospitality and establishing it as a standout new addition to Comporta's evolving luxury landscape.

STORYTELLING APPROACH

Tri Vananda enters the U.S. market with several compelling advantages: a differentiated wellness proposition, globally recognized partners, a highly designed residential offering, and a location in Thailand at a moment of growing international interest. The challenge is that these strengths are not yet connected in the minds of U.S. media or prospective buyers.

Our communications strategy must therefore do two things:

01

DEFINE TRI VANANDA CLEARLY

Establish what the community is, how its wellness philosophy comes to life across residences, hospitality, nature, food, and longevity, and how the different components work together as one ecosystem.

02

CREATE RELEVANCE FOR THE U.S. BUYER

Position Tri Vananda not simply as a luxury second home in Phuket, but as a new model for how affluent families can live: combining wellbeing, design, nature, community, and long-term quality of life.

Trust > Reach

For HNWI buyers, broad awareness alone does not drive consideration. Trust is built through credible media, personal networks, influential intermediaries, and firsthand experience.

Every milestone should serve as proof for one proposition: Tri Vananda residences are the anchor of a complete ecosystem for living well over the long term.

PATAMA, Clinique La Prairie, Jampa, and the Farm House are not co-equal announcements — they are evidence that reinforces why ownership at Tri Vananda is distinctive. The residence, not the wellness brand, is what we're selling.

Key Story Angles

Each upcoming milestone gives us a different way to demonstrate the value of Tri Vananda ownership. Rather than treating these moments as individual announcements, BPCM will use them as chapters in a single residential story — with the estate's wellness ecosystem as supporting news hook.

A NEW MODEL FOR RESIDENTIAL WELLNESS

Tri Vananda brings together private residences, clinical wellness, hospitality, food, movement, and community in one ecosystem: a demonstration of changing luxury values for UHNW buyers, and a new benchmark for what a residential real estate purchase can include.

MULTIGENERATIONAL OWNERSHIP

Residence designs across two collections — VANA and NANDA — built for families who want their parents, children, and grandchildren living well together, not apart. The story is architecture and ownership structure, not amenities.

NATURE AS INFRASTRUCTURE

At Tri Vananda, forests, lakes, farms, and wetlands are not decorative amenities. They are essential functions of the community and shape how residents experience everyday life.

ANOTHER SIDE OF PHUKET

The expansion of Tri Vananda creates an opportunity to participate in broader conversations about Phuket's evolution beyond conventional beach-resort tourism.

A HEALTH RESORT MOVES IN NEXT DOOR

The Q4 2026 opening of a Clinique La Prairie health resort — Switzerland's pinnacle of longevity, making its Southeast Asian debut — becomes a clinical validation point for residents, and a news hook for media. It's evidence the ecosystem works, timed to generate real estate coverage in the wellbeing vertical.

Building Credibility in Stages

For Tri Vananda, the value of top-tier earned media extends beyond impressions. High-quality third-party validation can strengthen buyer confidence, support sales conversations, and create credibility that travels across markets.

01	U.S. VALIDATION	Build confidence through globally respected business, luxury, and lifestyle platforms.	The New York Times Robb Report Bloomberg Forbes WSJ
02	BUYER CONSIDERATION	Establish Tri Vananda as a serious design, real estate, and residential proposition.	MANSION GLOBAL House Beautiful VERANDA Galerie ELLE DECOR AD
03	CATEGORY EXPANSION	Connect Tri Vananda to conversations around wellness, food, design, lifestyle, and purposeful living.	VOGUE FOOD&WINE SAVEUR goop TRAVEL+LEISURE DOSSIER
04	GLOBAL AMPLIFICATION	Convert U.S. interest into high-value international coverage that can be amplified across Southeast Asia and other priority buyer markets.	DEPARTURES The Sydney Morning Herald FINANCIAL TIMES South China Morning Post Tatler Asia

U.S. & GLOBAL MEDIA STRATEGY

Hero Features that Define the Brand

Leveraging upcoming launches and tentpole moments, we will pursue a focused number of high-impact features that introduce Tri Vananda's residences through the ideas most capable of driving buyer consideration: real estate investment, residential design, multigenerational living, and long-term value.

Clinique La Prairie's Q4 2026 opening is used as a timed news hook for one story; not the platform for all of them.

STORY ANGLE		TARGET OUTLET
 THE NEXT RESIDENTIAL HOTSPOT Positioning Tri Vananda within Phuket's broader real estate boom while highlighting its role in reshaping the island		WSJ T THE NEW YORK TIMES STYLE MAGAZINE FINANCIAL TIMES
 TRI VANANDA FIRST IN In-depth testimonial of residential living timed to the launch of Clinique La Prairie		Robb Report TOWN&COUNTRY
 RESIDENCE & DESIGNER SPOTLIGHT Design-focused real estate story		AD ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST ELLE DECOR Galerie

Trend Storytelling

Complementing the feature coverage will be trend-driven storytelling, which allows Tri Vananda to enter broader conversations alongside other names already shaping the interests of HNWI audiences while placing the project alongside established names and ideas that reinforce its credibility.

STORY ANGLE		TARGET OUTLET
	WELLNESS AS A FOUNDATIONAL AMENITY Using Clinique La Prairie's launch to underscore a growing demand from buyers for integrated health and wellness infrastructure in real estate	The New York Times Bloomberg
	DESIGNING FOR HEALTH SPAN Architecture and biophilic design built around long-term wellbeing	VERANDA WSJ Worth
	FOOD AS PART OF WELLBEING Highlighting the role of Jampa, the farm, and zero-waste dining within the community	FOOD&WINE SAVEUR AFAR
	LONGEVITY IN THE HOME How Tri Vananda's wellness principles can be translated into daily life	VOGUE goop ELLE

PUBLICATION	KEY CONTACT	NATURE + YEARS OF RELATIONSHIP
	 Erin Florio Global Features Director	Former colleagues at Condé Nast Traveler; personal friendship since 2013
	 Sam Cochran Global Features Director	Personal friendship since 2010; collaborated on 50+ stories since 2017. Victor also sat on the Architectural Digest Brand Communications team during his tenure at Condé Nast
	 Jacqui Gifford Editor in Chief	Former colleagues and personal friends since 2013
	 Betsy Blumenthal Editor of 36 Hours column	Former colleagues at Condé Nast Traveler; have traveled together across five continents
	 Justin Fenner Lifestyle Director	Working relationship dating to the start of both their careers in fashion
	 Liam Hess Senior Lifestyle Editor	Working relationship since 2013 that grew into a lasting friendship; traveled together to Italy, Japan, and across the UK.
	 Lane Florsheim Style Reporter	Personal friends; collaborated on long-form stories for over a decade, from WSJ Magazine executive profiles to Off Duty cover features
	 Brandon Presser Travel Columnist	Traveled together extensively through work; relationship spanning over 10 years
	 Thomas Medulla International Editorial Director	Personal friendship of over 15 years
	 Gianluca Longo Contributor	Family friends with Marina Mondadori and decade-long friendship with Gianluca Longo, Marina’s trusted culture reporter.
	 Nathan Lump Editor in Chief	Former colleagues at Condé Nast Traveler; relationship of 13 years
	 Katherine LaGrave Executive Editor	Former colleagues at Condé Nast Traveler; relationship of 13 years
	 Yolanda Edwards Founder + EIC	Yolanda was Victor's Creative Director at Condé Nast Traveler; the two have traveled together — often alongside her husband, Matt — to over 20 countries, and remain close friends

From Coverage to Conversion

Each layer of this strategy is built to move a prospective buyer one step closer to a private visit and a signed reservation:

ACTIVITY	OUTPUT	BUSINESS OUTCOME
HERO FEATURES (WSJ. MAGAZINE, T MAGAZINE, ROBB REPORT)	Credibility, third-party validation	Qualified inbound enquiries from HNWI readers
TREND STORYTELLING (VOGUE, BLOOMBERG)	Category relevance, top-of-funnel awareness	Brand recall when buyers begin their search
EDITOR DINNERS	Deep editorial understanding, story pipeline	Long-lead features that compound credibility
REFERRER DINNERS	Advisor conviction and sales materials in hand	Warm introductions from private bankers, family offices, agents
HOSTED VISITS	Firsthand experience of the estate	Direct path to reservation conversations with the sales team

High-Level Timeline

This high-level timeline is aligned with Tri Vananda's working master calendar and outlines BPCM's immediate priorities within the first three months of onboarding. It should be seen as a collaborative and living calendar as priorities, milestones and dependencies are refined by both teams.

TIMING	PR PRIORITY	CLIENT NEEDS
SEPTEMBER 1 – 15	Onboarding, immersion, residence positioning audit, competitive/media audit, sales-team interviews, Agree master residential narrative, messaging hierarchy, media targets, HNWI framework	Final brief, sales data, existing buyer profiles, brand materials, spokespeople, stakeholder workshops, approvals
SEPTEMBER 16 – 30	Agree master residential narrative, messaging hierarchy, media targets, HNWI framework	Early imagery/renderings, development facts
OCTOBER 1 – 15	Begin residence-first editor briefings; seed long-lead design/business stories; planning for Global Wellness Summit	Stakeholder workshops, approved messaging
OCTOBER 15 – 31	Accelerate pitching once final renderings/assets are available; confirm hosted/media/referrer guests; lock November programming	Visual assets, positioning statements, press kit and materials, guest hosting budgets
NOVEMBER 1 – 14	Host selected media/referrers at Tri Vananda	Access, logistics, sales representation, coordination with Clinique La Prairie's PR agency
NOVEMBER 15 ONWARDS	Follow-ups; pushing conversions for firsthand experiences; long-lead feature development; advisor referrals; measurement against sales pipeline	CRM feedback, inquiry attribution, sales-team follow-up

HNWI AUDIENCE ENGAGEMENT STRATEGY

Influencing the Influencer

For a multimillion-dollar residence, consideration is rarely driven by mass awareness alone. HNWI audiences move through networks of trusted people and institutions. Our strategy will therefore focus on the following audiences:

1. PROSPECTIVE BUYERS: Individuals with the means, lifestyle, and long-term interest to consider ownership.
2. TRUSTED INTERMEDIARIES: Private bankers, wealth managers, family offices, real estate agents, travel advisors, and concierge networks.
3. CULTURAL VALIDATORS: Editors, designers, wellness authorities, tastemakers, and other voices whose endorsement builds credibility.

Media Panels

Identify high-value forums where Tri Vananda leadership can contribute meaningfully to conversations shaping luxury real estate, wellness, design, longevity, and family living. The objective is not to deliver a property sales pitch. It is to establish Tri Vananda as a credible voice in the categories it is seeking to redefine.

POTENTIAL TOPICS COULD INCLUDE:

- The future of wellness real estate
- Designing for longer, healthier lives
- Multigenerational luxury living
- Nature-led community planning
- Asia's evolving luxury residential market
- The convergence of hospitality, wellness, and real estate

Estimated budget: $10,000 per event (travel, registrations, lodging)

The NYC Salon

Building demand for a residence at Tri Vananda will depend on two distinct circles of influence: the media who shape perception and the trusted advisors who shape decisions. Both can build credibility for the brand, but they need very different reasons to engage.

For media, the value lies in discovery, access and a compelling story. They need an experience that helps them understand why Tri Vananda represents something new across wellness, design, hospitality and residential living, without feeling like a sales presentation.

On the other hand, those influencing buyers have more practical needs and don't need a media story. They need enough knowledge and conviction to confidently put Tri Vananda in front of their networks.

BPCM THEREFORE PROPOSES ONE PRIVATE PREVIEW CONCEPT IN TWO DISTINCT EXPRESSIONS:

THE EDITOR DINNER

- Conversation over presentation
- Access to compelling Tri Vananda, PATAMA and/or expert voices
- Editorially relevant material and story leads
- Opportunities for individual follow-up, interviews and hosted visits to Phuket

THE REFERRER DINNER

- A clear understanding of the residence offering and ideal buyer
- Sales materials such as masterplans, residences, design details
- Straightforward pathway to introductions, private visits and follow-ups from the sales team

Estimated budget: $25,000 per dinner (venue, F&B, photography)

From Retreat to Referral

Tri Vananda has already identified availability for hosted experiences around November 10–13. We would build on that opportunity by creating a tightly vetted immersion for individuals who may not personally purchase a residence but have trusted access to people who could.

POTENTIAL PARTICIPANTS COULD INCLUDE:

- Luxury real estate agents and brokers
- Family-office advisors and private bankers
- Travel advisors, designers and architects
- Editors and tastemakers

Ryan Serhant
Celebrity Real Estate Agent

Kelly Wearstler
Interior Designer

Adam Lovick
Luxury Travel Creator

Estimated budget: $10,000 per visit (flights, lodging, F&B)

Partnerships Thought Starters

THE FOREST BIKE

Partner with a brand-aligned designer (Thakoon, Phillip Lim) to create a limited-edition mountain bike, ideal for movement around Tri Vananda, with a custom palette drawn from the estate's natural surroundings and subtle Tri Vananda detailing. A few bikes will live permanently at Tri Vananda as a resident amenity, while a limited number will be sold globally. Proceeds would support the Gibbon Rehabilitation Project, which has spent decades rehabilitating and reintroducing gibbons into Phuket's remaining rainforest after they had been hunted to local extinction, to reinforce the project's eco-friendly positioning.

TWO GARDENS, ONE TABLE

Similar to Tri Vananda, Flamingo Estate has built a culturally relevant lifestyle brand around gardening, food, botanicals, pleasure and the relationship between people and nature. To increase awareness in the U.S. market, consider a collaboration with Flamingo Estate on a seasonal garden box, inspired by what is growing in Phuket. Rather than a surface-level marketing stunt, founder Richard Christiansen and Jampa's culinary team could spend time together at Tri Vananda to develop a limited collection around tropical ingredients and the idea of the garden as a source of everyday wellbeing.

Partnerships Thought Starters

OURA REPORT

Leaning into medical science a la Clinique La Prairie, partner with Oura on a resident program exploring how everyday behaviors shift when wellbeing is embedded into the place people live. Participants would use Oura Rings at and away from Tri Vananda to track anonymized trends across sleep, movement, recovery and stress, supplemented by Oura's research expertise.

Findings would culminate in a wellbeing trend report, with the most interesting insights pitched to top U.S. business, wellness and lifestyle media. The study would go from hypotheticals to showcasing demonstrable and science-backed benefits of the Tri Vananda lifestyle while feeding data-led stories that go beyond real estate coverage.

MICHELIN UNVEILING CEREMONY

BPCM would explore bringing one of the industry's most influential culinary moments directly to Tri Vananda by inviting Michelin Guide to host their annual ceremony there. This would bring leading chefs, restaurateurs, luxury executives, media, tastemakers and other high-value cultural connectors onto the estate, giving them firsthand exposure to Tri Vananda's residences, farm, wetlands, Jampa and wider well-living philosophy. There is also a credible story to tell around the broader ecosystem, as PRU at sister property Trisara is currently Phuket's only MICHELIN-starred restaurant, while Jampa at Tri Vananda holds a MICHELIN Green Star.

MEASUREMENT FRAMEWORK & BUSINESS IMPACT

Four Platforms, Mapped to Your Own KPIs

BPCM holds active licenses across four platforms, selected so that no single KPI is measured by only one method.

TIER 1 FEATURE PLACEMENTS

Core media database, PR distribution, and baseline coverage monitoring across print, digital, and broadcast.

MEDIA QUALITY SCORE + SHARE OF VOICE

Media Impact Value (MIV) — a single, benchmarkable metric purpose-built for fashion, lifestyle, and luxury verticals, weighting placements by audience quality, platform authority, and content quality (imagery, engagement) into one score. Maps directly onto "quality indicators (length, imagery, sentiment)" and benchmarks Share of Voice against a competitive set.

TIER 1 FEATURE PLACEMENTS + EMERGING CHANNELS

Journalist relationship management paired with real-time coverage tracking, including 2026's AI-citation tracking — monitoring how Tri Vananda is surfaced in AI-generated search results, a channel competitors will increasingly be measured against.

AUDIENCE SENTIMENT & ENGAGEMENT

Dedicated social and influencer monitoring. It tracks content performance across the social, newsletter, and podcast channels of the Tastemakers and KOLs, rather than treating social as an afterthought to traditional press.

ACCOUNT TEAM + FEES

Victor De Vita

PARTNER

Victor is responsible for providing strategic direction and executing the delivery of programs for clients in BPCM’s Wine, Spirits, Travel, and Lifestyle division. He previously owned and ran his own boutique agency specializing in luxury hospitality and before that was Director of Brand Communications for Condé Nast Traveler. While Director of Content and Brand Strategy at Alice Marshall Public Relations he headed accounts including Belmond, Doyle Collection, The Chatwal New York.

Hendrick Hui

DIRECTOR

Born in New York and raised in Hong Kong, Hendrick draws on his international background to develop PR strategies for hospitality and lifestyle brands. He brings a decade of experience representing category-leading clients, including Marriott, Aman, Rosewood, Christie’s, and McCormick. As an Account Director in BPCM’s travel division, Hendrick provides strategic counsel to help brands navigate evolving consumer and media landscapes across global markets.

Nicolette Romley

SENIOR EXECUTIVE, BEAUTY

Nicolette specializes in developing impactful influencer and PR strategies across paid partnerships, organic gifting, experiential events, and press relations for clients including Hermès Beauty, Biologique Recherche, Oribe, and Eighth Day Skin. With a strong network of creators, tastemakers, and media, she builds meaningful relationships and connects brands with the right voices to drive authentic engagement, impactful coverage, and measurable results.

Sadie Ross

ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE

Sadie is an Assistant Account Executive at BPCM, supporting luxury clients across travel, wine and spirits. She has also worked at KCD Worldwide in New York, where she worked on fashion and brand communication strategies. At BPCM, Sadie supports day-to-day media relations, research, pitching and account execution with an eye for cross-category storytelling.

Proposed monthly retainer for a 12-month term: $7,000 per month

BPCM

NEW YORK

20 Jay Street, Suite 920,
Brooklyn, NY 11201,
USA
+1 212 741 0141
ny@bpcm.com

LOS ANGELES

1041. North Formosa Ave
Suite FWB 125
West Hollywood, CA 90046,
USA
+1 323 655 474
la@bpcm.com

LONDON

10-12 Heddon Street,
London W1B 4BY,
UK
+44 207 331 1444
newbusiness@modusbpcm.com