

GLOBAL WELLNESS SUMMIT 2026
20TH ANNIVERSARY · PHUKET

The Science, Art and Soul of Wellness

Montara Hospitality Group — an introduction, and proposed areas of collaboration

PHUKET · 7-15 NOVEMBER 2026

INTRODUCTION

Montara Hospitality Group

Montara is a Thai family-owned hospitality group — the owner and developer of Phuket's most personal luxury destinations. The Group opened Trisara in 2004 and has spent more than two decades guided by a belief that hospitality is a form of stewardship: a responsibility to care for the land, the community and future generations. Today the family is taking that experience into wellness — developing Tri Vananda and, with Clinique La Prairie, bringing evidence-based longevity medicine to Phuket.

Trisara

THE FLAGSHIP

Nestled in tropical forest above a private bay on Phuket's quiet northwestern coast: pool villas and suites, each with its own pool and uninterrupted views of the Andaman. Home to one-Michelin-starred PRU.

Tri Vananda

THE WELLNESS COMMUNITY

A 237-acre multi-generational wellness community of forests and lakes in northern Phuket, developed by Montara: biophilic villas and integrative wellness, with only a fraction of the land ever built upon.

Clinique La Prairie Phuket

THE LONGEVITY CLINIC · AT TRI VANANDA

The Health Resort by Clinique La Prairie at Tri Vananda — the first of its kind in Southeast Asia. Nine decades of Swiss longevity science meet the forests and lakes of Phuket: a place designed to help people live longer, stronger and more fulfilling lives.

VISION · ALIGNED WITH THE GLOBAL WELLNESS SUMMIT

One Belief, Shared with the Summit

As the Global Wellness Summit marks its 20th Anniversary in Phuket under the theme The Science, Art and Soul of Wellness, Montara's own journey mirrors the Summit's: two decades of patient destination-building, now devoted to helping people live longer, stronger and more fulfilling lives. Each dimension of the 2026 theme lives at one of the Group's properties.

THE PROPERTIES · 01 · THE SCIENCE OF WELLNESS

Clinique La Prairie Phuket

SWISS LONGEVITY SCIENCE, SINCE 1931 · AT TRI VANANDA

In 1931, on the shores of Lake Geneva, Dr Paul Niehans pioneered cellular therapy — a discovery that made Clinique La Prairie a place of pilgrimage for those seeking to live longer and better. Over nine decades, that pioneering spirit has matured into the CLP Longevity Method: a holistic, preventive approach that targets inflammation, slows ageing and strengthens immunity — built on four interdependent pillars.

MEDICAL

Advanced diagnostics, laboratory analysis and physician-led assessment — the foundation of every programme.

NUTRITION

Nutritional science and anti-inflammatory cuisine, personalised to each guest's biology.

MOVEMENT

Movement assessment and tailored training, coached to become part of daily life.

WELLBEING

Restorative therapies for body and mind — recovery, sleep and stillness.

At Tri Vananda, this science takes resort form for the first time in Southeast Asia: the Health Resort by Clinique La Prairie sets the Longevity Method within forests and lakes, in comprehensive medical and wellness facilities developed by Montara. Within the Summit's 2026 theme, it is the Science of wellness — delivered with Thai care.

THE PROPERTIES • 02 • THE ART OF WELLNESS

Trisara

THE GARDEN IN THE THIRD HEAVEN • SINCE 2004

Trisara takes its name from Sanskrit — the garden in the third heaven — and for more than two decades it has been Montara's answer to a quiet question: what does wellness feel like when it is practised as an art, rather than prescribed as a programme? Terraced into forested hillside within a protected nature preserve on a private bay, every villa, suite and residence faces the Andaman and its sunsets.

Here, wellbeing is expressed through craft. At PRU, Phuket's only one-Michelin-starred restaurant, cuisine begins with ingredients planted, raised and understood on the Group's own farm. At Trisara Wellness, wellbeing is drawn from the life of the island itself — the breath and stillness of the sea, the discipline of ancient Thai martial arts, the mindfulness of Buddhist tradition, and the nourishment of the land, from seed to plate.

Within the Summit's 2026 theme, Trisara is the Art of wellness — hospitality, nature, cuisine and connection, refined slowly by one family on the same bay.

THE PROPERTIES · 03 · THE SOUL OF WELLNESS

Tri Vananda

A MULTIGENERATIONAL WELLNESS COMMUNITY · NORTHERN PHUKET

Living well is becoming a place, not a destination.

For much of the past decade, wellbeing has focused on what we add to our lives — another programme, another retreat, another technology promising to optimise the body. Yet a quieter question is emerging: what if wellbeing is less about what we do occasionally, and more about the environments we choose to live in every day? Research continues to affirm what many cultures have long understood — access to nature, meaningful relationships, movement woven into daily routines, nourishing food and a sense of belonging all shape how we age and how we experience life.

In Phuket, this thinking is taking shape at Tri Vananda. Set within forests, wetlands, lakes and botanical landscapes, the community has been planned around the idea that nature should not simply surround a home but become part of daily life. Walking paths replace shortcuts. Productive landscapes sit alongside residences. Shared spaces encourage interaction across generations. The intention is not to create an escape from life, but a setting where life can unfold with greater balance.

That philosophy extends to the homes themselves. Tri Vananda's residential villas are biophilic by design — built around courtyards, gardens, natural light and ventilation, and opening onto the community's lakes and forest. Conceived for multigenerational living, they are homes designed to be lived in well across every stage of life, with only a fraction of the estate's 237 acres ever built upon; the rest remains forest, wetland and farmland.

Within the Summit's 2026 theme, Tri Vananda is the Soul of wellness — nature, community and belonging, woven into the way life is lived every day.

Proposed Areas of Collaboration

Montara proposes four areas of collaboration with the Global Wellness Summit for its 20th Anniversary edition in Phuket — a customised package, shaped together with the Summit.

01

Brand Awareness of the Montara Group

Positioning Montara as one group with three complementary properties — four brands, presented together across official GWS channels:

- Montara Hospitality Group — the family group, owner and host.
- Trisara, Tri Vananda and Clinique La Prairie Phuket — the three properties and their offerings.
- Official GWS website, delegate communications, newsletters, social media and concierge recommendations.

02

A Hosted Farm-to-Table Dinner at Tri Vananda

Tri Vananda proposes to host an intimate farm-to-table dinner reception for selected Global Wellness Summit delegates in Phuket.

Set within Tri Vananda's regenerative wellness community, the evening will bring delegates together through seasonal cuisine, thoughtful conversation, and a meaningful connection to nature, wellbeing, and the local community.

03

Montara Experiences within Official GWS Tours

The inclusion of selected Montara experiences within the official delegate tours on 9 and 14 November 2026:

- Clinique La Prairie Phuket — a guided tour of the clinic and its longevity science.
- Tri Vananda — the farm tour (9 Nov) and Local Roots (14 Nov): an immersion into community, provenance and Thai wellbeing.
- Trisara Wellness — the spa and wellness sanctuary at the founding estate.
- Hosted luncheon at Trisara — a seasonal table above the Andaman.

04

Leadership Participation & Narrative Positioning

The opportunity for Montara and Clinique La Prairie to join the official Summit programme, in sequence:

- First — the Montara family shares the Group's long-term vision and commitment to Phuket: the stewardship and destination-building that has guided the Group from Trisara to Tri Vananda.
- Then — Simone Gibertoni, CEO of Clinique La Prairie, shares the Clinique La Prairie perspective and the role of Clinique La Prairie Phuket within this wider ecosystem and vision for longevity.

Speaker biographies follow on the next pages.
