

TRISARA • GARDEN HOUSE

Garden House

The café-to-retail journey — three ocean-view salas, one continuous, joyful day.

AN EXPERIENCE CONCEPT • INTERNAL DRAFT • MAY 2026

---

The most meaningful luxury is not what we own, but how we spend our time —
and who we spend it with.

GARDEN HOUSE · THE LIVING ROOM OF TRISARA

THE IDEA

A house in a garden, not a shop in a mall

What if Garden House borrowed the move the great maisons have perfected — a café not as an add-on, but as the warm front door to everything else? You arrive for the pastry and the garden, and leave having fallen in love with the house. Nothing is sold to you; you simply want to belong to it.

A REFERENCE & INSPIRATION BOOK FOR THE WORKING TEAMS

GARDEN HOUSE

SECTION ONE

The Opportunity

---

Three ocean-view salas at Trisara are already connected by open-air garden corridors over waterfalls, koi ponds and tropical planting. With Chef Tao's pastry as the welcome and the garden as the journey, beauty, jewelry, skincare and play can unfold across a single, unhurried day — with Trisara's own signature products as the thread that ties it together.

Built for every generation

GARDEN HOUSE IS MADE FOR FAMILIES — TOGETHER, ACROSS EVERY AGE

SECTION TWO

How the Maisons Link Café to Retail

Three houses, one move — let delight lead, and let the desire to belong do the selling.

LE CAFÉ
LOUIS VUITTON

REFERENCE ONE

LV The Place, Bangkok

A VERTICAL BRAND-WORLD — FROM WONDER, TO INDULGENCE, TO DESIRE

REFERENCE ONE

THE FOUR-ACT JOURNEY

THE CUSTOMER JOURNEY · STEP BY STEP

- 01 Arrive in wonder. Through a tunnel of 96 vintage trunks into the ticketed Visionary Journeys exhibition.
- 02 Wander the rooms. Trunkscape, Origins, Icons, Collaborations build attachment — no product in sight.
- 03 The first 'yes'. Le Café Louis Vuitton for playful, local treats — a low-pressure pleasure.
- 04 Stay longer. Gaggan's ten-table restaurant turns a visit into an occasion.
- 05 Then, the store. Reached last, with worldwide-exclusive pieces. Retail is the finale, never the entrance.

---

READ THE EXPERIENCE →

tatlerasia.com · Inside LV The Place Bangkok

GAGGAN AT LOUIS VUITTON — THE RESTAURANT THAT LENGTHENS THE STAY

REFERENCE TWO

Café Dior at the Gold House

BANGKOK · A GARDEN CAFÉ THAT SPEAKS FLUENT LOCAL CRAFT

REFERENCE TWO

BOTANY ON A PLATE

THE CUSTOMER JOURNEY · STEP BY STEP

- 01 Approach the Gold House. A golden façade — a stop on the Dior odyssey.
- 02 Enter the garden. Bamboo flora hand-woven by Korakot Aromdee.
- 03 Meet the artists. Works by nine Thai artists thread through the house.
- 04 Taste the botany. Colagrec's desserts — the rose, lily of the valley, bee.
- 05 Drift to the boutique. Wrapped around the garden, discovered last.

---

READ THE EXPERIENCE →

lvmh.com · Dior Gold House, Bangkok

FLORA & FAUNA HAND-CRAFTED IN BAMBOO BY KORAKOT AROMDEE

A photograph of a sophisticated outdoor garden patio. The space is furnished with white wicker chairs and a long white sofa, both featuring blue and white geometric patterned cushions. Several white tables are set with plates, glasses, and blue accents. A large white canopy covers the area, and several white wicker lanterns hang from a wooden frame. The background is a lush green hedge with a stone archway and a large tree on the left.

REFERENCE THREE

Arnaud Donckele & Maxime Frédéric at Louis Vuitton

SAINT-TROPEZ · THE GARDEN-VILLA-BY-THE-SEA MODEL

REFERENCE THREE

A VILLA BY THE SEA

THE CUSTOMER JOURNEY · STEP BY STEP

- 01 Arrive at the villa. A heritage courtyard at White 1921 — open-air, the Riviera light, the sea a step away.
- 02 Take your table. Floral décor and the Monogram-flower Constellation tableware in finest Limoges.
- 03 Savour the cuisine. Donckele's Mediterranean dishes of sauces and jus — a first Michelin star in 2025.
- 04 The sweet finale. Maxime Frédéric's seasonal desserts, the Monogram carried to the plate.
- 05 One garden, shared. Store, restaurant and beach connected — dining and shopping at one resort pace.

---

READ THE EXPERIENCE →

louisvuitton.com · Arnaud Donckele & Maxime Frédéric

A PRIVATE VILLA YOU HAVE BEEN INVITED INTO — SHOPPING AND DINING SHARE ONE GARDEN

SECTION THREE

The Pattern — Why It Works

- 01 Hospitality before transaction. The first thing offered is pleasure, never a product.
- 02 A journey, not a shop. Movement through spaces is part of the experience.
- 03 Local craft and culture. The place feels rooted, never a transplanted template.
- 04 Edible signatures. House symbols become desserts — the brand, tasted.
- 05 Exclusive-to-here. Something you can only get in this place — a visit becomes an acquisition.

SECTION FOUR · THE GARDEN HOUSE EXPERIENCE

LIVING ROOM

Chef Tao's café — the social heart. Pastry built on Trisara's own motifs; the easiest, happiest first 'yes'.

LOTUS GALLERY

The salon: high-end jewelry and Trisara's signature pieces, with La Prairie skincare alongside.

LITTLE GARDEN

The children's house, tied to the garden — nature discovery, planting, butterflies and water play.

SECTION FIVE

Trisara Signature Products

THE KEEPSAKE

A silver charm bracelet linking Trisara's flowers and animals — the lotus, frangipani, hornbill, sea turtle, elephant. Begun on a first visit, added to on every return.

THE TASTE

Chef Tao's changing pastries on the same motifs, so the bracelet you wear and the dessert you taste tell one story. Exclusive to Garden House.

TO EXPLORE

Co-created jewelry beside La Prairie; botanical candles, ceramics and textiles with Thai artisans; limited local-art editions.

SECTION SIX

A Day at Garden House

MORNING

A family arrives along the garden corridor; the waterfall slows everyone down. A lotus-shaped pastry with coffee and wellness tea. Nothing is for sale; everything is for enjoying.

MIDDAY

Children to Little Garden; parents into Lotus Gallery — a tray of jewelry and a first charm chosen, the frangipani, then a La Prairie ritual and a conversation about skincare and longevity.

AFTERNOON

Tea returns in the Living Room. The bracelet is wrapped beside a box of Trisara pastries. The family leaves having been sold nothing — yet carrying Trisara with them.

SECTION SEVEN

Why This Fits Trisara

We already have the heritage salas, the garden, the waterfalls and the Andaman view; a gifted pastry chef in Chef Tao; and a story worth tasting, wearing and remembering. When hospitality leads, commerce follows of its own accord.

---

SUGGESTED NEXT STEPS FOR DISCUSSION

- |           |                                                                   |           |                                                          |           |                                                                                 |
|-----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|----------------------------------------------------------|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 01 | Confirm the three-space sequence and each sala's role in the day. | 03 | Develop the charm-bracelet range with a jewelry partner. | 05 | Define the invitation strategy so Lotus Gallery feels like a salon, not a shop. |
| 02 | Brief Chef Tao on a Trisara-motif signature pastry collection.    | 04 | Design the garden corridors as the connective 'journey'. |           |                                                                                 |

---

TRISARA

GARDEN HOUSE · THE LIVING ROOM OF TRISARA